

Join us on Saturday, December 9th for our Holiday Seated Luncheon

Three of Our Own: Michael Banister, Joanna Kraus, Kimberlie Ingalls

Using Travel Experience Michael Banister

You will learn:

- How the idea for my novel, Stolen Identity, came about.
- Why that idea resonated so strongly with me.
- How I used my travel experiences to enhance my writing.

Adding Drama to Writing Joanna Kraus

You will learn:

- To add drama, must have conflict, which is part of structure.
- Explanation and application of Grebanier's Proposition, shaping it and examples from own work.
- A folk song to test audience.

The Inspiration of Music Kimberlie Ingalls

You will learn:

- One of my favorite ways for finding inspiration is in the form of music.
- Songs are an amazingly effective memory trigger.
- Music has given me a voice in my writing.
