

Wild Goose Chase:

The cops went on a goose chase.

The geese were carrying thousands of dollars worth of grass that they stole from the grass bank

I think that they should have gotten a tank.

The getaway “car” was also stolen from Target

It looked like a cart stolen from the market.

When the goose left the cart, they didn’t park it.

They dropped some of the grass when they switched vans.

The suspension was great! The bumped four feet up when they hit a group of Coke cans.

Finally, they got trapped in an alleyway

They had no where to go but climb the walls that were gray.

Since that wasn’t an option, they might have had to pay.

Soon they realized that they were geese; they could just fly away.

Yaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaay!
